FEATURES AND BENEFITS

Traditionally-styled GA100 Guitar Capo allows you to transpose a song quickly and easily. The spring-loaded design is far easier to use than strap or thumb screw styles. The GA100 is so easy to use, in fact, removing it mid-measure for a key change is no problem at all.

The GA200 quick change Ukulele Capo allows you to play in any key you want. The GA200 works just like a full size spring-loaded capo but is sized for mandolins and ukuleles (soprano, concert, tenor, and baritone). Both the GA100 and GA200 are constructed from zinc alloy, which provides the necessary rigidity, while silicone padding provides uniform pressure and protects the neck/fingerboard.

Sized and contoured for classical nylon string guitars, the GA300 Classical Guitar Capo provides proper intonation and buzz-free fretting. The simple squeeze release design makes changing position fast and easy, while padded contact points protect your guitar's finish. Lightweight zinc alloy construction preserves the balance of the instrument.
